

Those members of the Farnborough Air Sciences Trust Association who were present at the 2013 AGM will have heard the FAST Trustees talking about the production of FAST Monographs which are intended to document the technical and intellectual contribution that was made by RAE scientists and engineers to the aviation world. The first of these has been produced “in house” and is now on sale in the FAST Museum Shop.

FAST Monograph No. 1

This monograph is a reproduction of the RAE/Saunders Roe design studies for Black Prince – a proposed British-led satellite launch vehicle based on a combination of the Blue Streak missile first stage, the Black Knight test-rocket second stage and a military solid-propellant third stage. This monograph represents a ‘snapshot-in-time’ and is the document published in May 1960.

Further monographs are planned.
